Revenue Program Management Provides Free CEU Opportunities for Coders

To help support you with the challenges of ICD-10 coding requirements, our Revenue Program Management (RPM) educators created webinars that go into detail about how to support diagnoses per guidelines from the Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS).

These on-demand courses are eligible for free continuing education unit (CEU) credits. You can register quickly and easily, and watch the webinars of your choice at your convenience. Find a coding webinar today at availity.com> Florida Blue Learning and Development.

Our coding webinars:

- Dive into coding best practices
- Encourage the use of the MEAT method (Monitor, Evaluate, Assess/Address, Treat) as a way of being thorough in medical record documentation
- Focus on chronic conditions, such as atrial fibrillation and chronic kidney disease, that can be complex to support in medical record documentation when the payer or CMS audits for validation
- Include coding practices that will help you meet audit expectations, such as ensuring that all reported conditions applicable to the member/patient, as well as assessment and treatment options for each, are captured
- Are available at no cost to you
- Provide 1 CEU credit for coding webinars

The following course topics are available to you to watch at your convenience:

- Atrial fibrillation
- Diabetes
- Cancer
- Chronic kidney disease
- Major depression
- Mental health disease
- Rheumatoid arthritis
- Chronic obstructive pulmonary disease

Webinars can be found in the Availity Learning Center on availity.com or you can create your own account at floridablue.learnupon.com/catalog.

Remember, accurate coding keeps you CMS compliant and improves opportunities for you to engage your patients in disease and care management programs or in care prevention initiatives.
